Letter to the Editor

Re: Barangaroo Articles

We applaud the Sydney Morning Herald's somewhat changed position on Barangaroo in several articles on 24 and 25 February. It is encouraging to see some "reporting" of different views rather than attempts to create debate with extraordinary statements without resorting to fact.

However, it is very unfortunate that your "Critics and backers..." 25 February, chose to make a very poor quality attempt to construct your own versions of images of the design of a world respected architect. It is unbelievably rude and incredibly arrogant. It is interesting that actual views from Darling Harbour of the Barangaroo plan are featured in the publicly available video on the Barangaroo website and as provided in a DVD to the Sydney Morning Herald.

The debate about Barangaroo's future should be balanced and based on accurate information. We will continue to publish accurate images and much more information about Barangaroo at www.barangaroo.com.

Detailed information is also open for all at The Barangaroo Display on Wednesdays and Saturdays in the Old Ports Building (47-51 Hickson Road, Millers Point).
